If you are currently enrolled and paying full tuition, please explain how your financial situation has changed. We expect that families who begin by paying full tuition to Ancona will continue to do so unless unforeseen circumstances make that impossible. We expect that any adult who contributes to full tuition in the first year will continue to do, as well. We advise families not to go to extraordinary lengths to pay full tuition their first year in the hope of receiving tuition assistance the next year. Have you investigated additional sources of income that might be available for educational expenses? (i.e. trust funds, relatives, loans, etc). Please explain.

Please describe any unusual circumstances that affect your family's ability to meet educational expenses:

Is this application for assistance a result of an isolated situation or a case of continuing need? Please explain.

If there is a co-parent who does not contribute to the educational expenses, please respond to the next page's questions. If not, please move on to page 5.

Do you receive child support payments from your child's co-parent? If so, please enter the amount. If not, please explain.

If you are not currently receiving child support, please describe the status of legal actions regarding child support.

If you have not begun legal action for child support, are you willing to do so? Please explain.
